Family Action Plan: 11th Grade

FOR FAMILY

Junior year usually marks a turning point. This is because for most students and families, it's when college planning activities kick into high gear. Here are some things you can do this year to support your child and give him or her the best options.

SUMMER
☐ Get the facts about what college costs. You may be surprised by how affordable higher education can be Start by reading Understanding College Costs.	Explore financial aid options. These include grants and scholarships, loans, and work-study programs that can help pay for college costs. Find out more about how financial aid can make college affordable
FALL
<ul> <li>Make sure your child meets with the school counselor. This meeting is especially important this year as your 11th-grader starts to engage in the college application process. Learn more about the counselor's role in applying to college.</li> <li>Help your child stay organized. Work with your 11th-grader to make weekly or monthly to-do lists to keep on top of the tasks required to get ready for applying to colleges. For more time management tips, see 8 Ways to Take Control of Your Time.</li> </ul>
WINTER
☐ Review PSAT/NMSQT results together. Your child's score report comes with a free SAT study plan. This online, customized plan is based on your child's test scores and can help him or her work on areas that need improvement. Learn more about this individualized SAT study plan.	<ul> <li>□ Discuss taking challenging courses next year. Taking college-level or honors courses as a senior can help your child prepare for college work — and these are also the courses that college admission officers like to see. Learn more about advanced classes.</li> <li>□ Encourage your junior to consider taking SAT</li> </ul>
☐ Help your child prepare for college admission tests.  Many juniors take college admission tests, such as the SAT, in the spring so they can get a head start on planning for college. See which tests your high school junior may need to take.	Subject Tests™. Many colleges require or recommer taking these tests to get a sense of your child's skills in a certain academic area. In general, it's best to take a Subject Test right after taking the relevant course. Learn more about SAT Subject Tests.

WINTER (CONTINUED) ☐ Encourage your child to take AP® Exams. If your 11thgrader takes AP or other advanced classes, have him or her talk with teachers now about taking these tests in May. Read more about the AP Program. SPRING ☐ Search together for colleges that meet your child's ☐ Help your child make summer plans. Summer is needs. Once you have an idea of the qualities your a great time to explore interests and learn new child is looking for in a college, help him or her enter skills - and colleges look for students who pursue these criteria into College Search to create a list of meaningful summer activities. Help your high school colleges to which he or she should consider applying. student look into summer learning programs or find a job or internship. ☐ Help your child research scholarships. This form of financial aid provides money for college that doesn't ☐ Visit colleges together. Make plans to check out need to be repaid. Learn more through College the campuses of colleges in which your child is Board's Scholarship Search. interested. Use the Campus Visit Checklist to learn how to get the most out of these experiences. Attend college fairs and financial aid events. These events allow you to meet with college representatives and get answers to questions. Your child can ask the school counselor how to find events in your area. Check out the College Fair Checklist for more information.

Visit bigfuture.collegeboard.org for more information